A Glimpse of Luxury Living

RECENTLY WE HELD A LAND AND HOME PACKAGE PREMIERE FOR AN INTIMATE GROUP OF PROSPECTIVE RESIDENTS TO VIEW OUR SPECULATIVE HOMES FOR SALE AND GET A GLIMPSE OF WHAT IT'S LIKE TO LIVE IN RIVER LANDING.

The day began with a tour of the community that included various residential neighborhoods and all of our amenities. I was able to spend time getting to know the couples, answer questions, and also provide information on the town and surrounding areas. Guests then settled into their hotel rooms at The Inn at River Landing and relaxed before heading back out for the home tours.

We began with one of the River Landing Builders projects on Sycamore Lakes Drive, then headed to see the craftsmanship of a Brandon Construction home. We then ended with another home by River Landing Builders on Legacy Woods Drive, where we enjoyed light hors d'oeuvres prepared by the River Landing banquet team. It was a great opportunity to mingle with other residents, our real estate partners at Landmark Sotheby's, and River Landing staff.

Thank you to everyone who participated and helped to organize this event! I look forward to hosting more in the future and sharing our community.

Welcome Home, Chef Charles: A New Era of Culinary Excellence at River Landing

CHEF CHARLES ROUSEY HAS WORKED IN SOME OF THE FINEST RESTAURANTS AND TRAINED WITH SOME OF THE TOP CHEFS IN THE COUNTRY.

He has done everything from washing dishes to cooking for celebrities. But when the opportunity arose to return to River Landing, Chef Charles says it felt like coming home. “That’s what River Landing is all about. Hospitality and building family within this community. I felt it from the moment I walked back in the door”.

Chef Charles first came to Wallace in 2007 as the chef at Mad Boar Restaurant. In 2008 he transitioned to Executive Chef at River Landing, developing menus and dining operations for the club's grand opening in 2009. "It was a great opportunity to start something new. I had worked at country clubs before, and they had very little change to their menus. Here we introduced two menus - the grill menu featuring classic items like burgers and sandwiches, and the Lakeview menu, which offered a constantly changing selection of tapas and entrées." After six years, Charles left River Landing and moved to Pennsylvania where he continued to develop his craft, before ultimately returning to North Carolina.

As Director of Culinary Operations at River Landing, Chef Charles is driven by a profound dedication to culinary excellence, with a commitment to quality, creativity, and authenticity. He believes in crafting dishes from scratch using exceptional ingredients sourced from local farmers and rejecting pre-made products in favor of superior homemade alternatives. "I have built my career on a simple philosophy – if you can buy it, we can make it," says Charles. Influenced by his life experiences and professional journey, Charles continuously explores new flavors and techniques, pushing the boundaries of his culinary repertoire.

Chef Charles' approach to menu development is marked by collaboration and empowerment. His kitchen is a dynamic one, and team members are encouraged to contribute their creativity and ideas. With Executive Chef Sam Johnson and Front of House Manager Susan Wolfe-Hill by his side, Charles is cultivating River Landing's reputation for outstanding cuisine and warm hospitality, with an emphasis on delivering exceptional dining experiences. It's that kind of approach which has members so excited that Chef Charles has returned, and why we are thrilled to say, "Welcome Home."

Honoring Legacy, Inspiring the Future

WALLACE-ROSE HILL FRIENDS OF THE ARTS CELEBRATED ITS 20TH ANNIVERSARY DURING SUPPORTER APPRECIATION NIGHT HONORING KEY INDIVIDUALS FROM DUPLIN COUNTY.

The event was held on March 7th, and it was a packed house filled with contributors, performers, and artists, many of them being our very own residents and members of River Landing. Starting in 2004, the organization was founded by the late Charles Schaeffer. Since then, the organization has aimed to enrich arts education for local youth from kindergarten through high school. One evening highlight was Theo Dove being awarded the Charles Schaeffer Scholarship. Dove, who plans to pursue a double major in studio art and theatre at the University of North Carolina Greensboro, expressed gratitude for the support of the Friends of the Arts throughout his high school career. The event also featured performances by local musicians, including Adrian Mejia and Caitlin Canales, as well as the Wallace-Rose Hill High School Choral Ensemble, spreading joy and celebrating the community's commitment to the arts in Duplin County.

Unlocking the Secret to Lush Blooms

TIMING IS CRUCIAL WHEN IT COMES TO PRUNING BELOVED SHRUBS LIKE GARDENIAS AND LOROPETALUM.

CHRIS RANDALL
Landscape Manger
River Landing Landscape Services
(910) 285-1027
landscape@riverlanding.com

For gardenias, it's essential to prune after they bloom, typically in late spring to early summer. Pruning too early, especially with hedge pruners, can strip away the potential for fragrant white flowers. Instead, opt for touch-up hand pruning until they bloom, allowing them to retain their natural shape and enhancing their blooming potential. Similarly loropetalum, with its striking beauty, should avoid late-fall or winter pruning if you're aiming for spring blooms. While it may be tempting to prune for uniformity, this practice can diminish or eliminate the flowers that brighten early spring landscapes. Embracing a slightly wilder look can yield vibrant blooms come springtime, showcasing varying hues of red and pink. In the realm of spring gardening, proper timing is also essential for vegetable planting.

Referencing resources like the Eastern North Carolina Planting Calendar from NCSU Extension can guide gardeners to optimal planting times for a wide array of vegetables, fruits, and herbs in the region. By adhering to suggested planting times, gardeners can maximize the yield and success of their spring vegetable gardens, ensuring a bountiful harvest.

Putting for the Plant: Keeping our Courses Sustainable

DEPENDING ON WHETHER YOU'RE NEW TO RIVER LANDING OR HAVE BEEN HERE A LONG TIME, YOU MAY OR MAY NOT BE AWARE OF OUR SUSTAINABILITY INITIATIVE ON OUR GOLF COURSES.

It started back in 2015 with a goal of efficiently using our resources to be good stewards of the environment. One of the main ways we accomplish this is by reducing high maintenance areas with more natural alternatives.

Over the past year, you may have noticed some changes to both of our courses. Winter and springtime clean-up has taken place, new trees have been planted, and new native grass areas have been established in areas where Bermuda grass was sprayed out last summer. This helps reduce the demand for water and electricity to provide irrigation, as well as the need for fungicide and fertilizer treatments. Not only will that help improve our carbon footprint for the future, but it will also enhance the natural beauty of our two golf courses.

The initial inspiration behind our sustainability initiative was golf course designer Clyde Johnston, who designed both The River and The Landing courses. Clyde is a leader in the golf sustainability world, and he visited River Landing in November to see what we've been up to and to play both courses with yours truly. Once we were through with our rounds, Clyde provided some unsolicited feedback which I wanted to share with you.

First of all, Clyde was complimentary of the map data and area calculations we have been keeping which analyze the positive impact of our sustainability efforts. "The current status of that effort is that River Landing has eliminated almost 100 acres of high-maintenance turf since 2015", said Clyde. "The benefits of which are less fuel consumption, less wear and tear on the maintenance equipment, and fewer man-hours of maintenance. That manpower obviously was redirected to keeping the primary playing areas of the golf courses in great shape."

Clyde went on to say, "I am very proud of River Landing for many reasons. To be able to add sustainability as an additional reason is another feather in the cap. River Landing is a great community."

The plan since 2015 has always been to better utilize our resources while protecting our surroundings. Today, we have seen this come to fruition, and we plan to continually tweak and improve our efforts for the future.

Perfecting Your Grip

I KNOW SPRING HAS ARRIVED WHEN I SEE EVERYONE HEADING OUT TO THE GOLF COURSE TO PRACTICE AND TRYING TO GET THEIR GAMES BACK TOGETHER FOR THE SEASON.

It's great to see everyone excited for the warm weather along with getting on the golf course! As a teacher of the game, there are several things I look at when I'm giving a lesson, especially coming out of the winter months when we haven't been playing much golf. One of those areas I look at is the grip and the amount of pressure used holding the club. It's funny how a little lay-off can affect the pressure you put on the club with the grip. Let's look at a few things you can do.

The first question I will get often is "how tight should I be holding the club?" You should hold the club with enough pressure to where you can feel the finger tighten around the grip of the club but at the same time your wrist and arms are still relaxed. I see a lot of my students raise their hands and wrist upward where the arms and wrist are almost in a straight line. Doing this tightens the arms and shoulders too much and restricts the rotation of the shoulders. Lower the hands a bit and you will see the arms, hands and shoulders relax. This is a great way to stay relaxed throughout the golf swing.

A comment that is often made to me during lessons, especially with beginners is, "if I don't hold the club tight enough it will fly out of my hand." What most people don't realize is that the left hand (if swinging right-handed) and right hand (if swinging left-handed) will tighten at the top of the back swing without you even realizing that it is happening. These hands help you control the club and keep you from releasing the club at the top of the swing. This is another reason why grip pressure is so important.

Lastly, grip pressure will affect how the ball moves through the air when hitting a shot. While swinging if the grip pressure is too tight the club face may close, resulting in a hook in the golf shot. At the same time if the grip pressure is too loose, it could cause the club face to remain open creating a fade or slice. Staying relaxed finds firm pressure in the fingers and making sure the arms and wrist are relaxed which gives you good pressure in your grip. You will feel that the arms are relaxed before taking the club back and that will give you the chance to make a better motion because the grip pressure will be consistent throughout the

RLMGA: Quarterly Update

THE 2024 SEASON KICKED OFF ON FEBRUARY 21ST WITH THE ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN THE CLUBHOUSE BALLROOM. WE HAD A FULL HOUSE SO THANK YOU TO ALL THAT ATTENDED.

At that meeting, election results were revealed with Walt Dlugolecki re-elected as Treasurer and Dave Cailler as Member At Large. We want to thank Harry MacLaughlin for his time and support during his previous terms. He is our go-to guy for our MGA By-Laws. Dues will remain at $85. A motion was approved to increase the dues for 2025, if required, based on an expected increase in food prices.

As of this writing, the RLMGA membership stands at 133 members, up from 119 in 2023. Participation continues to grow! Welcome to all the new members who joined us this year and good luck!

The performance awards from 2023 were also announced. Three members won “Most Improved” in their handicap ranges: Eric Lucas (11.5 – 7.4);

Joe Hourihan (16.0 – 12.1) and John Weston (36.3 – 31.7). The top money winners were Jeff Mandusky, Jim Kelly, Jim Frater, and Bob Conte. Finally, the iron men award winners for highest number of rounds played were Jim Frater, Jeff Mandusky, Ed Zupko, Bob Conte, and Jim Kelly. Remember, you have to play to win!

We held our first MGA Match Play tournament in 2023 and the winners were Jim Harless for Flight 1, Tom Stamm for Flight 2, Dan Kusnierz for Flight 3, and Barry Roth for flight 4. Special thanks to Don Thomas for setting this up and managing all the results throughout the event.

New for 2024 is our Starter. Former Tournament Director Bob Miller has agreed to take that role. Bob will assist with players teeing off on time, explaining the rules of the game for each flight, pin placement, and providing additional information as needed. Thank you, Bob, for helping us out!

March 9th was our scheduled official start with our traditional Opening Day Shamble tournament; however, it was canceled due to rain. It has been rescheduled for June 22nd. To date, we have had 7 Play Days, with one rainout. We hope the weather continues to favor us throughout the remainder of the schedule. Our Tournament Directors, Don Thomas, and Frank Wolf, have done a great job in coming up with challenging games each play day so far this year. Please remember to let them know if you must cancel prior to signing up for a particular play day ahead of time. Play day attendance has averaged 50 players so far this year, a notable

Although only two months into the season, we have seen some notable accomplishments by our members. Dave Cailler got an Eagle on 13 River. Good job Dave!

There are several upcoming events to be put on your calendars. We have six more tournaments scheduled: Spring Classic on May 11th, Opening Day Shamble on June 22nd (due to rain out), Murphy Cup on July 20th, Summer Classic on August 17th, Fall Classic on October 5th and the Closing Day on November 16th. Each year, when both RL courses are closed, we schedule away events at other courses. The schedule is as follows: Castle Bay on April 18th, North Shore on May 16th, Cutter Creek on June 20th, Walnut Creek on October 17th and Bear Trail on October 29th. We plan to have hot dog days, but the actual dates have not been decided. And finally, the first Pot-of-Gold Day will take place on July 9th!

Remember to visit the website: RLMGA.INFO for any information you need concerning RLMGA activities and results. If you are reading this and are not an RLMGA member, but would like to be, you can find application forms in the Pro shop, and on the website: RLMGA.INFO. We would love to have you join us!
